

Sarah von Wehrs | Communications Consultant

Corporate, Internal and Change Communication

My services address all your communication needs. I can handle your media relations including arranging contacts with journalists and writing press releases. In addition to my core competencies in Internal and Change Communication, I provide media training (from concept development to final key messages). My services also include the creation and maintenance of internal and external communication channels, such as websites. Furthermore I can translate any documentation from English and French into German.

I support you in devising communication concepts and preparing customer and pitch presentations. My aspiration: I create the slides you can use after a joint brainstorming or on the basis of your initial drafts.
